

A Destructive Obsession:

"Obsession is a young man's game," Michael Caine commented as John Cutter in The Prestige. His quote applies equally to the subjects of this week's thriller, a character-driven drama that shines for its gorgeous direction and exceptional attention to detail. And the Chinese soundtrack is very well done as well. So if you feel like a bit of a guessing game, listen in to our show and be sure to write echo@popupchinese.com if you think you can ID our mystery film for this week.
